Music Corner

A PLAYLIST FOR YOUR WEEK

FROM YOUR MUSIC TEAM

This week's playlist is bookended with songs about legacy. I find that these songs bring perspective to my life. What's important? Where am I storing my treasures? How will I be remembered? Not my reputation, but my character.

The song 'Seasons' is about waiting. When I find myself in periods of time that I need patience, these lyrics remind me that when we wait for God, it's worth the wait. "Though the winter is long, even richer, the harvest it brings; though my waiting prolongs even greater, your promise for me like a seed; I believe that my season will come.

"The middle of the playlist includes two songs that are candidates for the new hymnal. Both are songs with international origins, yet somehow feel familiar. 'Sanna Sannanina' is from South Africa and translates to "hosanna." The next song, 'To My Precious Lord' is a contemporary Korean song. In this recording, the first verse is sung in Korean, then the lyrics switch to english. It tells the story from the perspective of the woman who anointed Jesus' feet with oil, which is a text that is rarely set to music. I was present at these two recordings, and both songs gave me goosebumps.

The music of the song 'The Yearning' perfectly captures the feeling of yearning, waiting to see Jesus. The world was waiting for the coming of their Saviour, and today, we wait to meet him too. "There is a yearning, when all our sorrows are erased and we shall see the one who placed within our hearts the yearning."
